

DELEGATION CHECKLIST • ONE DECISION

The HUMAN Delegation Checklist

AI can inform almost any decision. The question is whether the responsibility can be separated from a person. Tick each box that is true of the decision in front of you.

THE DECISION YOU ARE TESTING

- | | | |
|----------|---|--------------------------|
| H | HIGH CONSEQUENCE
Serious harm to a person, the business or a client if it goes wrong. | ☐ |
| U | UNCLEAR OR CONTESTED
No single right answer; it turns on judgement and competing interests. | ☐ |
| M | MORALLY OR RELATIONALLY SIGNIFICANT
It touches how you treat people, or a relationship that matters. | ☐ |
| A | ACCOUNTABLE TO LAW, CUSTOMERS OR EMPLOYEES
You would have to stand behind it to a regulator, a court, a client or your staff. | ☐ |
| N | NOT READILY REVERSIBLE
A mistake lands and stays; it cannot be quietly undone. | ☐ |

Count the ticks, then read the zone below. The more boxes ticked, the more firmly the decision stays with a person.

Green

0-1 ticks. AI may decide, with light human review. Reversible, low-stakes work.

Amber

2-3 ticks. AI assists, a human decides and signs off. Keep the person in the chair.

Red

4-5 ticks. A human owns it. AI may inform the thinking but never make the call.
